

Fine Art Exhibit Will Open May 6; To Feature Individual Efforts

Individual art will be the subject of a month-long student exhibition to be staged by the Art Department during the month of May, according to Miss Helen Wright, department head. Exhibit will open May 6 in the Fine Arts Center.

Unusual aspect of the annual affair is the wide range of media and experience to be illustrated in the exhibit, according to Miss Wright. Members of the Art 2 course in Individual Instruction, some 27 of them, will be asked to exhibit at least one of their best efforts.

"The best thing about the exhibit is the fact that every piece of work is a reflection of the individual who made it," Miss Wright said. "The basic aim of the course is to develop the individual, not to emphasize any one particular style of art."

Students are allowed to work in their best fields of interest. These range from furniture design and costume design to realistic landscaping and architectural design. Some of the varied media are such usages as water color, pen and ink, pencil and gouache and opaque water color.

Choir Sings Weekends

Tomorrow Wartburg Choir members will embark on the first in a series of weekend tours. They will be singing at a morning church service in Tripoli and an evening service in Oelwein.

These trips will all be in preparation for the European tour, as the program arranged for the tour will be presented. The majority of these excursions will be taken by car, according to Dr. Edwin Liemohn, director.

Next weekend, the Choir members will depart on a three-day tour. On Friday they will be in Albert Lea, Minn., and in Belle Plaine, on Saturday. On Sunday they will sing in Wells, Minn., and Mason City.

Azbell Chosen To Head Physics Section, State Academy Of Science

William Azbell, Wartburg Physics Department, was elected chairman of the Physics Section of the Iowa State Academy of Science at its annual meeting at Iowa Wesleyan College, Mt. Pleasant, April 17.

For the first time in the 73-year history of the State Academy, a representative from Wartburg was chosen to head the Physics Section. Succeeding Professor L. T. Earls of Iowa State College, Ames, Azbell will have charge of the formation of the Physics program for 1960.

At this same meeting, Azbell presented a talk entitled "Variable Stars," based on research he did last summer at the University of California, Berkeley.

All items will be on sale in the individual exhibit, according to Miss Wright. The exhibit will be open to students and the general public.

Student Body Presidential Voting Opens Wednesday; Four Vie For 1959-60 Prexy Seat, Two For Secretary

By Linda Mugridge

Wartburg Student Body will elect officers for the 1959-60 school year Wednesday. Four presidential and two secretarial candidates will give campaign speeches at Tuesday's convocation.

Running for Student Body president are juniors Jim Eissinger, Roger Lageschulte, Norm Litzner and Jim Thomas. The one receiving second highest number of votes will automatically become vice president. Candidates for secretary are juniors Dorothy Miller and Marilyn Nissen.

Polls Open Wednesday

Wednesday voting will take place in booths located in front of the Dean of Students office in Luther Hall, according to Larry Nelson, elections chairman.

Jim Eissinger of Wishek, N.D., is presidential candidate of the Representative Student Voice Party. Transferring from Concordia College, St. Paul, Minn., at the end of his freshman year, Eissinger has participated in Choir, debate, Young Republicans and Hans Sachs. He is treasurer of Young Republicans.

"Political parties are an important part of American governmental scene and should become a vital part of student government at Wartburg. I intend to support my party's platform and add a few views of my own in areas that it doesn't cover," stated Eissinger.

Caucus Meets

RSVP was organized at a student meeting last Monday night. The initial party caucus set up a tentative platform which was crystallized by a special committee. Also running on the party's ticket for secretary is Miss Nissen.

Candidate Lageschulte of Waverly presently serves as president of both Young Republicans and Ushers Club. A member of the Business Students Association, he was also co-chairman of this year's prom.

"As a candidate for Student Body president, I have set forth some basic principles on which I will work. I feel that a candidate cannot offer specifics before he has done much research in the area of his statements. If elected, my job would be one of studying, organizing and presenting the student opinion to the administration. My experience and course of study (pre-law) will enable me to present the student cause quite effectively to the administration," stated Lageschulte.

Litzner From Michigan

Hailing from Cheboygan, Mich., is Litzner, who is currently junior class prexy. He was president of his sophomore class and vice president of his freshman class. Serving on committee for Homecoming, Student Activities and Social Activities, Litzner supervised last year's Campus Carnival. He is also vice president of Castle Singers.

Scharlau, Fiegen Named Co-Editors Of '60 Fortress

Sophomores Ed Scharlau and Lorraine Fiegen have been appointed co-editors of next year's Fortress by the Publications Committee. At its Tuesday meeting, the group also named sophomore Marilyn Brudi as Trumpet business manager and freshman Bonnie Lambert as Fortress business manager for next year.

Scharlau

Fiegen

He also doubles as photographer for both Fortress and Trumpet. During his freshman year, he was a member of Student Senate.

A native of Mason City, Miss Fiegen is an English major who plans to teach after graduation. She belongs to the Fortress staff and has worked on Trumpet reporting and advertising staffs. Miss Fiegen also holds the positions of secretary-treasurer for Castle Singers and Wartburg Hall.

An English major from Milwaukee, Wis., Miss Lambert is a member of the Student Senate and assistant to the business manager of this year's Fortress. Miss Brudi, Stockton, Ill., is presently assistant Trumpet business manager. She plans to be a history teacher.

"Having been in student government for quite some time, I am aware of how it operates, as well as the problems it faces. The problem that would receive my immediate concern is that of interesting students in student government throughout the year. In order for student government to continue progressing, we must interest all students," said Litzner.

Thomas has belonged to Choir, W-Club and Hans Sachs in addition to being a member of the track squad. His home is Oshkosh, Wis.

Concerned With Apathy

"Student apathy seems to me to be the greatest problem that faces many college campuses today. This problem can and should be approached on our own campus from many different angles. My overall objective shall be to pay heed to Student Body opinion and to draw in more student participation and interest in student senate actions, while maintaining a harmonious, functional relationship with the administration. My platform will reflect this main objective throughout," said Thomas.

Miss Miller, candidate for secretary, belongs to Choir, Phebes, Mission Fellowship and Lutheran Student Association. Last year she was elected to Women's Coordinating board. Her home is in Jesup.

A candidate for secretary on the RSVP ticket, Miss Nissen, who comes from Corwith, was a freshman senator. She presently serves as Band secretary and belongs to Choir and Music Educators National Conference.

SOME MORE volumes of Wartburg's traveling library are moved into the new library by college librarian Miss Perna Lohn. Assistant Mrs. Leo Petri stands ready to deposit her pile. Mass exodus of remaining bulk of volumes will take place some time this month, according to Miss Lohn.

One-Act Plays Rehearse; Production May 6, 8, 9

Maucker To Visit

President J. W. Maucker of Iowa State Teachers College will address the Wartburg faculty Monday evening in the faculty lounge.

Dr. Maucker and his wife will be dinner guests at Dr. C. H. Becker's home before the speaking engagement.

Rehearsals for the three one-act plays to be presented May 6, 8, 9 by the Wartburg Players enter their third week. Plays were recent winners in a contest sponsored by the Speech Department for Iowa College playwrights.

"The Queen's Messenger," a comedy by Norman Handelmann, first prize winner, is set on the island of Madagascar in 1848. It centers around a queen who poisoned her messengers after they had delivered their messages so that no one would know of her business.

The caskets for "The Casket Maker," a drama of suspense, by Richard Stockton are being constructed in the Scene Shop in the Little Theater under the direction of Vernon Lestrud, Speech Department.

"George Spelvin" by Rick Pierce, third place winner, takes place on a state university campus.

Says Past Too Glorified

Commenting on the subject for his banquet address, Dr. Sandberg said, "Most people have a tendency to glorify the past and to see in the past more pleasant things than actually existed. Although this is usually associated with old age, it is typical of every age."

"Part of this love of the past is a tendency to see there liberties which are at best only imaginative. Yet we seek our native haunts of freedom and joy without ceasing," he continued.

'Johnny' To Be Read

Other banquet entertainment includes a reading entitled "Oh, Johnny" by freshman Charlotte Scholl and two songs from the musical "Oklahoma" sung by sophomore Tom Christensen.

Prom music will be provided by a local eight-piece orchestra featuring Jerry Meyer of radio station KWVY. The prom is open to all Wartburg students, whereas the banquet is restricted to juniors and seniors plus their dates.

Women's hours for the event are 1:30 a.m., according to an announcement by Helen Rae Mueller, Women's Coordinating Board president.

Students Dine, Dance Tonight

Dining and dancing will be the rule rather than the exception tonight as Wartburgers attend the Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom, "Soiree France."

Headlining the program for the banquet, which will begin at 6:30 p.m. in St. Paul's Parish House, is Dr. Edwin Sandberg, Wartburg English Department. The prom will be held in Knights Gymnasium from 9-12 p.m.

Native Views Native

Dr. Sandberg will base his address on "A Glimpse of the Native." Coming to Wartburg in 1953, Dr. Sandberg has taught in a high school, junior college, college and university. During his career he has written more than forty newspaper articles and letters and 10 magazine articles plus two published poems and a story.

Before he was awarded his Ph. D. at Indiana University, Bloomington, in 1951, Dr. Sandberg earned both his M.A. and B.S. at the University of Minnesota, Minneapolis. His hobby is American Indian literature and music, which he organized into a course taught last year.

'If I'm Elected ... What Then?'

It's political campaign time on campus, or "what ain't our government got that needs gettin' " time.

But, just a minute, Winnie Wartburg and Joe Knight, before you go running to the polls with the idea that big changes are in order for student government future tense, just consider for a minute what the present government setup is.

Big issues are nice. They're nice to write about, to read about, and they help keep campaign fever running at a high temperature. But when was the last time Wartburg had a big student issue on its hands? The records say 1956 when the social topic of dancing was blown into a large charge for on-campus hoofing.

At present, there may be one sizable issue in the milling process, that being campus worship. The real groundwork for this enterprise is already being laid by the present student administration. (What's this? He plugging the present administration? No!)

Political parties, elevated platforms and the like all tend to make a campaign interesting, but much more is going to be involved for the candidate who gets the most votes. There is a great deal of student prexy work that is not so exciting as issues but essential to filling the position.

Find out for yourself, for a starter, just how much work is accomplished by the committee system in our student government. Then start making a mental list of the unseen things which must be kept functioning and organized by the Student Body President and his cabinet.

In other words, take note of the fact that you will be voting for an individual, not for a few selected issues. Maybe it seems like a popularity contest, when all things are considered, but the likeliest candidate ought to be the one who is thought to be most capable of doing a full-time job.

Remember, especially, if you are one who likes to put a president in office and then sit back and let him take over, you'll need a personality who can be trusted to work in your behalf. If it's a group endeavor, or if its big issues you want, you'll probably have to do a lot more than place someone in office to get your wishes.

Why not make your campaign slogan something like "Raise the Issues, But Vote For the Man." Sound silly? Well, maybe not if you'd look into the matter.

STUDENT OPINION POLL

What About Russian-Style Education? 'Don't Pattern It,' Say U.S. Students

Minneapolis — (ACP) — The rush toward conquest of space is beginning to cause a re-evaluation of American educational standards. Controversies have been raging over the question of whether or not American educational institutions are properly preparing students for scientific competition.

The Russian system of education is often held up as a model which we must imitate if we are to compete intelligently in the race for scientific knowledge. There are many strong opinions which hold that America must place more emphasis on science, less on liberal arts education.

Another school of thought holds that there is already too strong a tendency toward too much specialization, and that a return to liberal education is indicated.

American college students are caught in the midst of the controversy. In effect, the speculation centers around what is going to happen to them. To discover their feelings on whether or not America should undertake to imitate Russia in educating its students, Associated Collegiate Press asked the following question of a representative cross-section of students in American Colleges and Universities:

"Some people feel we Americans must imitate the Russian educational system in order to advance in the race for scientific knowledge. Would you agree or disagree with this feeling?"

More than three out of four of the students interviewed answered with an unequivocal "disagree." Only about one in six expressed agreement. Six percent of the total sample hadn't made up its mind.

A complete tabulation of answers to the question is as follows:
Agree that we should imitate Russia	18%	12%	15%
Disagree—should not imitate Russia	77%	81%	79%
Don't Know/Undecided	5%	7%	6%

Knight Life

By Don Claggett

It never fails to amaze me when students of Wartburg complain about the social activities available to them. Of course, I may not have viewed the situation objectively.

Really, about all I can think of to do is play golf, go bowling, watch a ball game, view a track meet, take in a drive-in movie, dine at the Junior-Senior banquet, watch the Castle Singers program, play tennis, dance at the prom, play IM softball, go to Waterloo, spend an evening watching TV, have a chess or a bridge game, sleep Sunday afternoon, go river banking, prepare for eighteen hours of class, or sit in the Den and complain of nothing to do. Really is a shame there is nothing to do.

Congratulations are in order for Wartburg's beloved prof Kay and Janice Cave. Today is the big day for them, and now we know what prof Kay meant when he said, "My experience here has been profitable and enjoyable."

Hats off to the Castle Singers for a job well done. Wartburg is fortunate indeed to have a man such as Dr. E. A. Hovdesven on the staff. "Beyond the Blue" was an appropriate title for a production that was out of this world.

In looking over the nomination for Student Body president the slate of Norm, Jim, Roger and Jim looks adequate, but we are a little surprised and somewhat disappointed with Ketha House for not sponsoring a candidate. After Ketha made such a fine showing from the carnival queen race we were sure they would come up with a real winner in the prexy race.

Letters to the editor in last week's Trumpet stimulated quite a bit of thought and comment. The best of the bunch was equipped by a woody frosh in answer to the Hot Toast League question what could be done about the toast that stacks up high at breakfast. His solution, "Give it to the pigs."

Question of the week: Is it true that seventy five girls sun bathe every afternoon between the girls dorms on the campus of ISTC?

CAMPUS VOICE

Party Politics Not Real Answer To Government Needs, Says One

To the Editor:

I have been following with some measure of interest the recent developments of the political party on campus. I agree that perhaps this could be the answer to raising interest and popular support for student government. But first there are some definite questions which I would like to raise.

As I understand it, one of the main purposes of this party is to eliminate the popularity contest for Student Body President. But would this be creating a greater evil than the one now supposed to be existing? By this I mean the formulation of a two party system on campus.

To me it seems logical that the larger and stronger of the two parties would continue to win elections and gain more support over the years. One party would shortly lose any confidence which it previously had. To me it seems awfully ideal that two parties of equal strength and support can get started and be maintained over a period of time.

The reason I question that two parties of equal strength can be maintained is that there are not two basic strains of thought on which to build two party policies and platforms.

But considering that the party system would work, I think there are some other questions which should be raised.

Could there be a danger that the member of a party would lose his political independence on campus and let his party leaders do his thinking for him? A political party could not be strong unless it had support from its members. An example could be this: A person may feel that the opposing candidate is better qualified for an office, yet isn't the party member bound by his political loyalty to vote for the inferior candidate?

This also works the other way. Would Student Body officers answer first to the party which put them in office or the general voice of student opinion?

I believe that if you closely examine the platforms of the

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

Oppiemen Travel To Simpson Today; Saathoff, Borcharding Seek Loop Wins

Baseball Coach Earnest Oppermann and his squad are at Simpson this afternoon in quest of Iowa Conference victories number four and five.

Oppermann will send right-hander Arlyn Saathoff (1-1) and lefty Jim Borcharding (2-1) to hill to face the Redmen. Opener of the twin-bill is slated for 1:30.

Ott Still Out

Soph hurler Marv Ott injured his ankle in the Luther contest earlier this week and it is doubtful that he will see any action today. Wayne Slack, a flu victim the past week, will probably be in the lineup at first sack this afternoon.

Coach Hap Miller's Redmen are currently riding 1-2 in conference action. They dropped a double-header to Upper Iowa to initiate their season, but bounced back to claim a single win over Central. Simpson, conference winner last season, took it tough earlier this year when it was learned that their ace pitcher for the past three years, Joe Zahn, had used all of his eligibility.

Nip Norse 7-6

The locals claimed their third victory of the season here Tuesday when they put down the Luther Norsemen 7-6. Slugging Dar Fritz, Knight leftfielder, put the cap on the contest with a double that scored Ott who was on base after his third hit of the game.

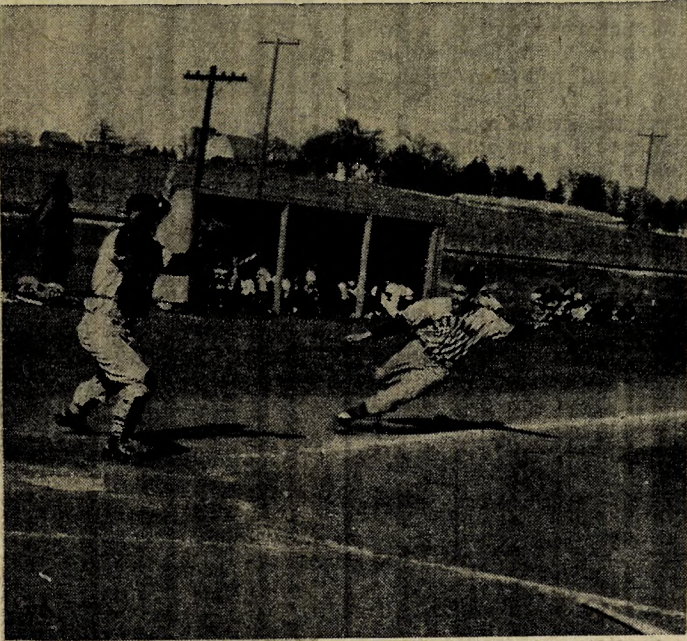

Luther grabbed a 3-0 lead early in the contest when they chased Wartburg starter Dave Sieffkes to the showers. Knight centerfielder Fred Mai cracked a two-run triple to bring the count 3-2.

Get Lyon's Share

A Wartburg rally in the sixth sat Luther starter Clay Lyon on the bench and brought in Ken Crider. The rally, climaxed by Fritz's two RBI triple, brought the score to 6-3.

The Norse tallied two the next time out, and after freshman Borcharding took over on the mound, tied the count in the ninth at 6-6. Fritz's final blow gave the win to the rookie southpaw and produced his 2-1 season record.

Picking Up Splinters

By Wilbur Flachman

An abundant supply of exchange papers flooded the Trumpet office the past week.

Browsing through them we can see a stereotype of stories. On the front page, student candidates have taken over, with government elections in the air across campuses in the United States. Editorials urge all to vote and to elect a responsible candidate.

Spring fashion news is prevalent on the inner pages of most of the college sheets.

The Trumpet pattern is somewhat similar on all these issues, but, alas, we come to the sports page and find something that is unfamiliar to Wartburg fans.

For in college (large and small) sport pages from across the country we read heads that sound like this, "Spring Football Continues; Squad Works on Basics," or "Coach Emphasizes Drills In Spring Workouts."

It is then that we realize that there is something missing from our page. It isn't that we haven't been covering spring football practice, it just isn't here.

Iowa Conference rules forbid spring drills.

Officials of the loop feel that schools of the conference aren't large enough to handle spring workouts. Many athletes participate in the various spring sports and if spring grid practice were held, these boys would not be able to take part in one or the other.

That in a nutshell is why there is no spring football practice at Wartburg.

This year it would help considerably for Coach Norm Johansen to have workouts. Since most of last fall's championship squad was made up of frosh and sophomores, they could use some extra tutoring before the campaign opens next fall.

If spring practice were allowed, Wartburg and Luther, the two football powers in the conference last fall and largest schools in the league, would probably benefit most on the basis of student enrollment.

This would only serve to weaken the play of opponents, so we'll play football in the fall when the season comes around.

Linksters Finish 9th In Iowa Open Meet

Wartburg's golf team came home with 9th place in the 18-hole Iowa college handicap golf tournament at Waveland Course, Des Moines.

Jerry Nora rounded the course with a 6-over-par 76 to lead Wartburg shooters. Fifteen teams entered the meet.

Wartburg's Jim Rodewald came in with an 85, Bob Bracklein with an 86 and Gary Hummel finished with a 90.

Runners At Drake; To Dubuque Tues.

By Don Bathgate

Wartburg's cindermen travel to Des Moines today where they will participate in the Drake Relays.

According to Coach Bob Campbell, the Knights will enter the 880 relay and the mile relay. Eddie Skay, Wayne Dreier, Bill Streng and either Harold Olesen or Jim Johnston will do the running in the 880 relay with Ulrich Columbus, Gordon Peterson, Dave Jensen and Streng holding the honors in the mile relay.

Deal With Dubuque Tuesday

Tuesday the runners will travel to Dubuque where they will tangle with Loras in a dual meet.

Last Wednesday the cindermen were at Cedar Falls where they met Iowa State Teachers College in a dual meet. The Panthers rolled past the Knights 81½-39½ as they copped ten firsts and one tie in the fifteen events.

Max Huffman of TC set a new school record in the broad jump as he went 23' 4" to better the old mark of 23' 2½".

Dreier Takes Two

Wayne Dreier, Wartburg sophomore, managed to collect two firsts as he captured both the 100 yd. dash and the 220 yd. dash. Andy Polis won the javelin throw with a heave of 164' 1" and Chuck Wallin captured the discus throw with a mark of 128' 8". Polis also managed a first place tie with Huffman of TC in the high jump at 5' 8".

Campbell stated that the results of the field events from the TC meet were sent to Central College at Pella where they will be compiled to determine winners in the Conference Relays.

The relays were held at Pella a week ago last night, but heavy rain kept them from holding the field events. Campbell expects to receive word on the outcome of these events some time this week.

Dubuque Smashes Knight Tennis Team

The University of Dubuque captured six of seven matches as they knocked Knight tennismen for their second straight loss on the Wartburg courts yesterday.

Don Wentz was the only Knight to come up with a victory as he beat Ron Carlson 6-3 and 6-0.

It was a disappointing day for frosh Larry Mugridge as he dropped his match to Lec Stevens 6-0 and 6-0. Dick Jebesen also lost his match, but not without a fight. Dick Swartzbaugh managed to dispose of Jebesen 7-5 and 8-6.

Monday Jebesen was elected captain of Wartburg's tennis team, according to Coach Adeline Langrock.

This afternoon the racketmen will play host to the Luther squad at 1 p.m. and will travel to Simpson on Friday.

Topics for Sunday's Bible Discussion groups are: "Christian Freedom," Rev. Dell—Faculty Lounge; "What About Worship?," Jim Schwarz—Fuch's Lounge; "Doubt the Christian Faith?," Howard Schroeder—Library Magazine room and "The Christian Victory," Jack Horner—Private Dining Room.

Bible Discussion is at 9:15 a. m. and is open to all students.

NELSON LSA PREXY

Junior Larry Nelson was recently elected president of the Lutheran Student Association for next year. Other officers chosen include freshman Milbern Goetz, vice president; freshman Bella Eske, secretary; and junior Rex Grove, treasurer.

New officers will be installed at the group's picnic in May, according to Norm Braatz, present prexy.

Wartburg, St. Paul's To Send Delegates

Wartburg College and St. Paul's Lutheran Church of Waverly will send 35 pastors and laymen to the Waterloo conference pre-merger rally tomorrow night.

Rally is being held in Nazareth Lutheran Church, Cedar Falls, beginning at 7:30. Speakers will be Iowa presidents of the three merging bodies, the UELC, ELC and ALC.

Wartburg president, Dr. C. H. Becker, will be on the road this week for a variety of events.

Tomorrow morning he will preach in Richland Center, Wis., and will also speak at an area Brotherhood banquet there tomorrow evening.

Tuesday a meeting of the Iowa College Foundation is in store for him at Simpson College, Indianola. Dr. August Baetke and he will take in a sociology meeting at Iowa State College, Ames, Thursday.

Dr. Becker will then hit the banquet circuit again, speaking to an area Luther League gathering at Boscobel, Wis., next Sunday eve, after preaching a church service in the forenoon.

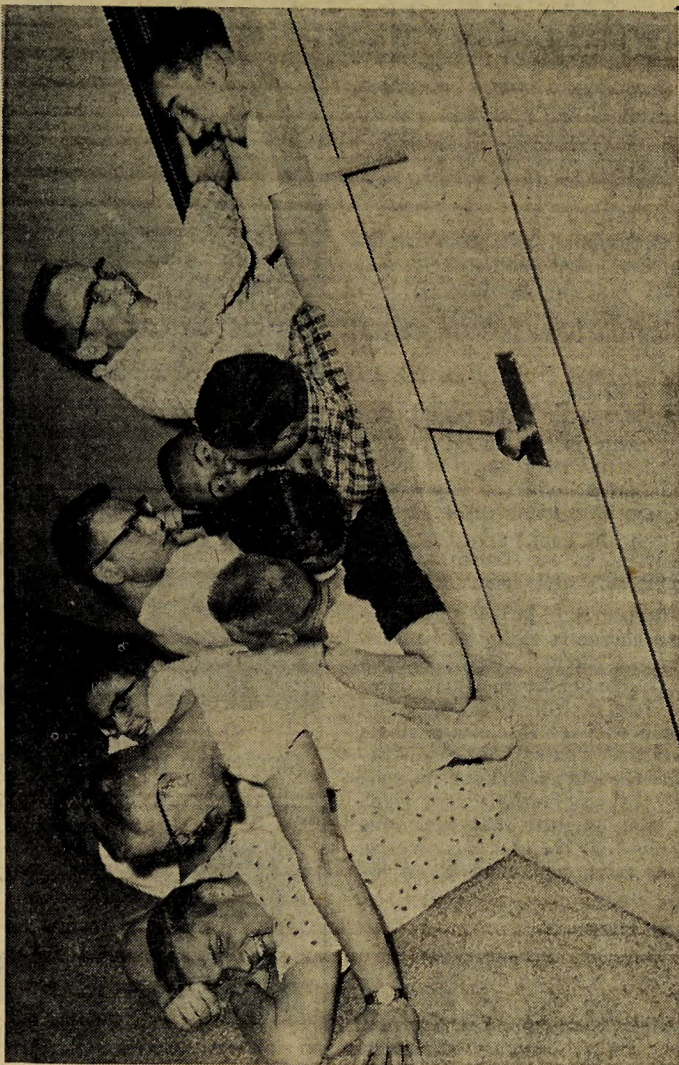

SBP Candidates To Air Campaign Platforms Tues.

Candidates for Student Body president will present their platforms at Tuesday's convo. Also students will participate in a question and answer session where campus worship will be discussed.

John C. Gerber, Professor of English, State University of Iowa, Iowa City, will speak at Thursday's Sesquicentennial convocation in honor of the birth of Edgar Allan Poe.

Dr. Gerber, who specializes in 19th century American literature, is the author of 25 published articles and many books, including "Factual Prose" of which he was co-author with Walter Blair. This book is used in Wartburg's freshman English course.

BOBBINS, BISCUITS AND BOWS

Home Ec. Girls Experienced

By Grace Jahn

"Don't forget to cut the material on the bias."

"Stir gently, don't boil."

To Virginia Albers, Paxton, Ill., and Jo Ann Schmidt, Clarksville, the preceding words are weekly utterances.

Each Wednesday afternoon will find the two junior girls at the Lutheran Children's Home, Waverly.

"We teach home economics to girls between 11 and 15 years old," explained JoAnn.

The girls, home economics majors, were selected for this experience by Miss Hazel May Snyder, Home Economics Department, through a request put in by the Children's Home.

Cooking and sewing with a little good grooming are the subjects to be taught, and although the girls feel that this experience is a definite help to them, they sometimes run into problems.

"The best laid plans often go awry," commented Virginia, "but we're learning a lot of do's and don't's."

Both girls agree that the hour and a half they spend at the Children's Home each week has brought them into much closer contact with the Home and has helped them to understand the girls.

But the girls' experience will not stop for the summer. They have been accepted for temporary employment in a Dietetic Summer Practicum. This six weeks course is sponsored by the Army Medical Specialist Corps.

The girls will spend six weeks working and observing in the kitchen of Brooke Army Hospital, San Antonio, Tex.

While the two home ec. majors wait for summer and their new job, they still can be found advising, coaching and teaching their charges at the Lutheran Children's Home.
